Albion Dreamtime – Re-enchanting the Isle of Dragons

By Peter Knight and Sue Wallace.

Published in June 2019. £19.50 + £3.00 p&p.

Sue and Pete share their Quest to many of Albion's magical, natural sacred places. Across England, Wales and Scotland they sought to connect with the spirit of place. They chanted, drummed, dowsed and meditated, to re-enchant these numinous locations. These include waterfalls, fairy glens, ancient forests, rock outcrops with simulacra giants, deep dark caves, and raw wilderness. It was to such dreamtime places that early hunter-gatherers and shamans came to connect with Spirit. They also make a passionate plea that natural places should be visited today, to revere the ancestors, connect with Nature elementals, dragon energies, and the spirit of Merlin and King Arthur, with a view to offer healing to the land. Their chapter 'A New Vision for Albion' is a timely rallying cry at this pivotal time of climate change.

Lavishly and beautifully illustrated with over 800 colour images, plus site directions, grid refs, all in an A4 format, this is Peter's 12th book and Sue's 2nd. Join them on their magical, inspiring (and at times personally challenging) Quest to re-enchant Albion.

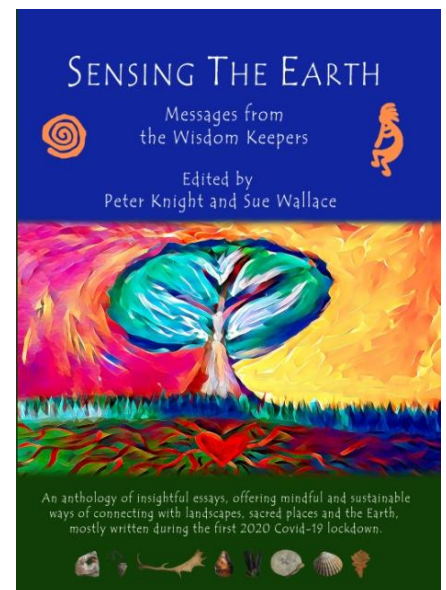

NEW! Sensing the Earth – Messages from the Wisdom Keepers

Edited by Peter Knight and Sue Wallace.

NEW! Published Nov 20, 2020. £17.50 + £3.00 p&p.

This inspiring and eclectic anthology brings together over 50 'Wisdom Keepers', who share their expertise, passion and timely messages about our planet, landscapes and sacred sites, and how we can live more profound and sustainable lives. Many of the essays were written during the first 2020 Covid-19 lockdown, and suggest ways we can move forward to a more hopeful future. Subjects include earth mysteries, connecting with nature, mythical landscapes, the Goddess, shamanism, Druidism, sacred sites, earth energies and dowsing, ancient and indigenous wisdom, ley lines, sacred waters, pilgrimage, sacred sound, crop circles, rewilding, environmentalism and geopolitics. This is a collaborative endeavour between some of Britain's top authors and leading lights in their field, including Caitlin Matthews, Paul Devereux, Kathy Jones, Leo Rutherford, Philip Carr-Gomm, Palden Jenkins, George Monbiot, Lucy Pringle, Anthony Thorley, Celia Gunn, David Furlong, Gary Biltcliffe, Hamish Miller, Nicholas Mann, Maria Wheatley, Hugh Newman, Peter Knight and many more. As well as inspiring essays and poetry, the book includes hundreds of full colour images, all offering you ways to ... Sense the Earth.
